Overview

Jordan is an experienced tax and business planning attorney. He has worked with corporations, partnerships, and LLCs on matters including entity formation and dissolution, strategic acquisitions and restructuring, and tax planning, as well as customer agreements, employment contracts, equity compensation programs, and other general business transactions. He has authoritative knowledge of tax law and helps clients mitigate tax liabilities in taxable, tax-deferred, and tax-free transactions, advising on U.S. federal, state, and local taxes and cross-border tax considerations.

Jordan also represents private equity firms in capital raises and structuring joint venture deals, specifically in the real estate industry. Jordan understands that each joint venture must be tailored to fit his client's needs and works to minimize risks and bring value to each transaction.
